Online course methodologist with a product mindset. 6+ years in education projects, including 2.5 years at Eduson, a top-10 Russian EdTech platform. Made 740+ learning and media materials: mass asynchronous courses, interactive simulators, corporate special projects and end-to-end courses for experts. On average, 75% of learners finish my courses. I start from the learner's goal and data, lead teams of methodologists, experts and contractors, and build simulators in Claude Code in 4–5 hours instead of 8–12.

I lead module-by-module content development for the AI line, including courses on the major AI ecosystems. The line is among the revenue leaders in its cluster. The content team has 33 people, 19 of them methodologists.

- Shipped 195 learning materials and 178 hours of content, half of it without an expert.
- In 2025, ranked #1 in the department by output and was named Employee of the Year.
- Keep an average material rating of 4.8/5.
- Together with product, moved the AI courses from longreads to simulators: a simulator now takes 4–5 hours instead of 8–12. Built 10 demo simulators for Alice AI, Qwen and Shedevrum.
- Built 5 Claude Code skills and introduced 4 learning mechanics. The whole methodologist cluster uses them.
- Created the content of a course after which 78.7% of students choose the PRO plan.
- A professional test as a lead magnet brought in 50+ students with no ad budget.
- Managed 20+ experts, up to 6 at a time.

EdTech companies, online schools and independent experts

I take on end-to-end projects: courses from scratch, instructional design audits, program rebuilds and consultations. I assemble and lead teams of instructional designers and contractors.

- Yandex Education: as part of a team, adapted an AI product for schools in Kazakhstan, with 7 interactive simulators for 5 audiences. I was responsible for mechanics and guides for teachers and parents.
- End-to-end course “Sales: for work, career and life” as project lead: budget, contractors, a methodologist on the team, research, program, filming, an original guidebook. 86% of students were actively learning in the first month.
- AI Sparta lab: rebuilt the program and knowledge base. 12 of 12 participants finished, and 40% of the program was handed to guest speakers.
- Online psychology school (NDA): in 3 months, a product line, curator guidelines, a knowledge base for 3 flagship programs, 4 new modules of 5 lessons each.

- mads creative school: research on the Brand Strategy course (6 hypotheses, a survey and interviews) and 8 guidelines for the curator team.
- Sketching school (NDA): together with a fellow methodologist, audited 3 products and built a repackaging strategy.

Family history media Istoriya Tebya

Launched a cross-media product for a book on family history: the media outlet complements the book and works on its own.

- 46 pieces in the media, 10+ speakers: historians and genealogists.
- Wrote the editorial policy: mission, tone, presentation rules and fact-checking. The company still uses it after I left.
- Built a production system the company used to cut content budgets.
- Led a team of 4; for a while ran all the content myself.
- Handled media support for the Gentech festival of genealogy and family history.

Researcher · creative studio (NDA)

December 2020 — July 2021 · 8 mos

National edutainment series

- Gathered research and facts for the series' scripts, turned complex material into stories for a mass audience.
- Worked with archives for the studio's books and booklets: search, organisation, fact-checking.
- Formulated the principles for selecting material for script formats.
